

DNA Magazine - Mr Gay Australia 2015

Date: 4-Feb-2015

Scott Fletcher is a 27-year-old Melburnian and the latest Mr Gay Australia, set to compete against 30 other finalists for the Mr Gay World title in Cape Town, South Africa in April.

Scott is an information security expert (brainy) who loves camping, hiking, wakeboarding and skiing (sporty) and is single!

DNA asked Scott what he thinks is the biggest challenge facing the gay community on a global scale. "As much as we may all not want to admit it," he says, "I would have to say without a doubt, drug abuse. Specifically the increasing number of people using methamphetamine or any substance to the point where it is impeding their ability to live a productive, happy, healthy life."

For more on Mr Gay World go to mrgayworld.com.

Photography: Chris Garbacz

